Travelers Insurance Co.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital, - - $500,000.

Insures Against

ACCIDENTS,

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,

CAUSING LOSS OF LIFE OR BODILY INJURY.

THE TRAVELERS INSURANCE COMPANY was organized, under a charter granted by the Connecticut Legislature of 1863, and amended by the Legislature of 1864, for the specific purposes of effecting INSURANCES AGAINST ACCIDENTS, of whatever kind or description, whether they occur in travelling by railroad, steamboat or stagecoach, walking in the street, at work in the shop, or sitting by the domestic fireside, whether riding, boating, hunting, fishing, shooting, swimming, cricketing, surveying, engineering, whether working, or playing, sleeping or waking, in danger or out of (apparent) danger, at home or abroad—in every variety of circumstances in which mankind are ordinarily placed.

A General Accident Policy not only includes the risk in travelling, but also all forms of dislocations, broken bones, ruptured tendons, sprains, concussions, crushings, bruises, cuts, stabs, gunshot wounds, poisoned wounds, burns and scalds, bites of dogs, unprovoked assaults by burglars, robbers or murderers—the action of lightning or sun stroke, the effects of explosions, chemicals, floods and earthquakes, suffocation by drowning or choking.

This company has now been for more than a year in successful operation; has issued over fifteen thousand policies and paid numerous claims for compensation, has a directory of high character, and is managed with the prudence and sagacity which distinguish the fairest insurance companies; has an ample capital and large surplus, and its soundness and stability may be relied upon.

New York Life Insurance Co.,

112 AND 114 BROADWAY.

THIS is one of the oldest institutions of the kind in America, having been chartered in 1841, and commenced business in May, 1845.

EVERY ONE SHOULD ENSURE.

While we live we may protect those dependent upon us; but when death severs the tie of all others must dear, this a consolation to know that our prudence and foresight have made provision for the wants to which we can no longer minister; and the man who has the power, but neglects the opportunity, of providing in this way for the comfort and independence of his family, fails in the duty which he owes to them and himself. Therefore, let every one who has not obtained a policy of Insurance upon his life, no longer neglect this imperative duty. GREAT CARE SHOULD BE MANIFESTED IN THE SELECTION OF A COMPANY. The

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE CO.

Offers the following highly important essentials:

It is a strictly Mutual Company;
It has had Twenty Years' Business Experience;
It has Large Accumulated Assets;
It gives Liberal Assistance in the Payment of Premiums;
Its Dividends are declared Annually;
It is prompt in the Payment of all Losses;

IN FACT,

Special care in the selection of its risks, strict economy, and a safe and judicious investment of its funds, emphatically characterize the management of this company.

During its existence it has issued

TEN-YEAR NON-FORFEITING POLICIES.

The New York Life Insurance Company originated, and was the first to bring before the public, the Ten Year Non-Forfeiting Plan, which has so fully commended itself to the judgment of thinking men that it has become the most popular mode of insurance, and is rapidly superceding the old method of lifelong payments. It has received THE UNQUALIFIED APPROVAL OF THE BEST BUSINESS MEN OF THE LAND, for numbers of whom have taken out policies under it as an investment.

TEN YEAR NON-FORFEITING PLAN.

A party ensuring by this table, after the second year, cannot forfeit any part of what has been paid in, and his policy becomes a source of income to him while living.

ANOTHER NEW FEATURE.

The New York Life Insurance Company have recently prepared A NEW TABLE, BY WHICH THE PREMIUMS CAN ALL BE PAID IN TEN YEARS AND THE NON-FORFEITURE BENEFIT ALSO SECURED. These policies are coming into general request. As a sure and profitable investment for one's declining years, they deserve the attention of all. A party ensuring by this table the amount is received by the assured himself, upon his attaining a specified age, while full provision is made for death occurring prior thereto.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

[ISSUED IN ENGLISH AND GERMAN.]

THIS work embraces the entire narrative of Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years travelling through the South in the Secret Service of the Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, East and West; his thrilling capture and confinement, for twenty months, in seven different rebel prisons; his escape and almost miraculous journey of near 400 miles aided by negroes and Union mountaineers. It abounds in startling revelations of rebel treachery, the hot, hideous and remorse of the war; this narrative work which has just appeared. THE GENEROUS PATRONAGE RECEIVED by this popular Institution, has compelled the Proprietors to rent additional rooms.

THIS INSTITUTION, A LINK IN THE

Great American Chain,

Is Second to none other in

Comprehensiveness, Thoroughness

AND ECONOMY.

Text Books being used only as references, the Student is thrown upon his own resources, and graduates not a mere copyist, but learns that best of lessons, dependence upon himself.

Manuscript Course.

Upwards of fifty sets are given precisely as they occur in business. They contain all the improved and labor-saving methods of Book Keeping.

Business Correspondence.

One great advantage of this Chain over all others is its system of Business Correspondence.

The Student is in receipt of information which tends to the belief that the recent destruction by fire of the arsenal at Columbus, Miss., was caused by incendiaries to cover a theft of Government cotton stowed in the arsenal.

A letter has been received from Alex. H. Stevens, stating that the condition and persecution of Union men in Georgia, are at this time vastly worse than during the rebellion.

Three more invoices of goods, amounting to $2500, have just been received from the Birmingham Society in England, for destitute freedmen in this country.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.

General Sweeney was called to Washington yesterday, by a dispatch from the Secty of War, and is assured that he will be restored to his position in the army.

Major General J. H. Wilson has been assigned temporarily to the command of the Department of Georgia.

The World's special Washington dispatch says

Yesterday, Associate Justice Field, of the U. S. Supreme Court, received a small box by express from California. It was opened carefully by a friend, under the belief that it contained photographs, but it turned out to be a small torpedo, containing eleven bullets. After being soaked in water, it was examined.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.

The Herald's Paris letter says the Emperor and Cabinet are carefully studying the means of withdrawing from Mexico honorably, and with as little loss of prestige as possible. The Emperor desires it to be done of his own free will, and not under menace.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.

Governor Stone of Iowa, was re-inaugurated on Thursday. He approves the President's reconstruction policy, though desirous that he should go further; advocates negro suffrage; opposes the admission of the late rebellious States to the Union, saying they should be kept out until political guarantees are received that the inhabitants have abandoned their offensive theories and epidiums of treason, permanently. Governor Stone recommends an amendment to the State constitution allowing negroes to vote.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.

Pirate Semmes is held in close confinement, at the Marine Barracks, awaiting the action of the Government. He is in good health and spirits, and seems to be confident of being able to justify his conduct.

TORONTO, Jan. 16.

A rumor is circulated that arrangements have been made in Washington for a continuance of the Reciprocity Treaty beyond March, for the purpose of securing more mature consideration.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 16.

The inaugural of Gov. Ward urges the adoption by the State of the amendment to the Constitution, prohibiting slavery. The people have in the election spoken in its favor, and he knows the Legislature will gladly pass it.

He returns thanks to the soldiers, and recommends action for the welfare of those who have become disabled in the country's service; opposes anything like repudiation; favors the cause of education, the maintenance of the purity of the ballot box, and economy in State finances; expresses full faith in the ability, patriotism, and fidelity of President Johnson, and trusts the Legislature will strengthen and support the Executive and Congress, through whose joint action we shall soon have a reconstructed Union, in which the natural rights of all men will be fully guaranteed.

FORTRESS MONROE, Jan. 15.

Orders were received yesterday from the War Department to discharge all employees in the various government departments in this district, who have been in any way connected with the rebel service. The commanding General immediately dismissed all such, about 25.

The agent of the National Express Company was also sent away. This order was undoubtedly caused by the rumor that an organization was being formed to rescue Jeff. Davis.

Armed picket-boats are on duty constantly to examine vessels arriving.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.

A pilot reports the steamer Plymouth Rock, ashore near Greenwich, Conn.

The Commercial's money article states that the stock market has taken another spasmodic upward turn. The Bulls hope to realize an improvement upon covering of short contracts, and therefore sustain the market as well as they are able. The Bears are putting out a few options. The outside public stand aloof, and the Brokers operating for a rise, have to carry the whole burthen of the market.

Government Bonds are quiet but firm. The gold interest bonds are supported by the expectation of higher quotations from London, it being presumed that the comparatively low rate of interest at Paris will afford early relief to the Bank of England. 5-20's are 1st better: 7-30's are id steady demand, and ½ better. Miscellaneous are decidedly dull, though rather stronger.

A Washington letter in the Times says—Generals Fessenden, Cyrus Hamlin, Connor and Caldwell, of Maine, quit the service on the 15th, in accordance with an order from the President. Gen. Charles Griffin, now in command, I believe, for Maine, and who commanded a division at the first battle of Fredericksburg, and was put in command of the 5th corps by Sheridan, when Warren was relieved at Five Forks, resumes his rank of Captain in the Regular Army.

Assumption of State War Debts.

The Boston Herald has a judicious article in favor of a national assumption of the war debts of the loyal States. Before that question is taken up for consideration, however, other and more pressing matters require to be settled. The restoration of the Southern States, the re-organization of labor in the South, the contraction of the currency, and other measures to secure the public credit and lighten the burdens entailed upon the country by the war, are of imminent importance; every day's delay enables rampant speculation to increase the evils of our position financially, and to discourage the progress of the country politically. But the time will come for squaring accounts between the national government and the several States, and we see no objection to taking the first step towards it at the earliest opportunity. Nearly all the States made large expenditures to support the war on their own responsibility, without which the general government would scarcely have had the power to put down the rebellion. Those which were the most patriotic came forward most promptly with their means, and so far as their expenditures were wise they were directly effective against the common enemy. If the whole sum of our public debts were to be paid at once, we see no reason why it should not be distributed according to the means of the whole people; but as the debt, with its burdens, will probably remain on our hands for some time, there is an additional reason for an equitable distribution of those burdens. We say that the war was fought for posterity, and that it is only fair that posterity should pay a part of the expense; but if so, it should be equally distributed in the next generation, if not liquidated, as well as in this generation. This can only be done by making it a general matter for the whole country. The relative wealth and population of the States will be greatly changed in thirty, twenty or even ten years. The new States of the West will increase much more rapidly than older States of the East. Their wealth will be multiplied by the employment of capital from the East. Their population will be increased by emigration from the East. Some of the far Western territories that have contributed comparatively nothing to the maintenance of the late war, will, in ten, twenty, or thirty years, have more population and wealth than some of the New England States which have contributed largely to that victory, the fruits of which all will enjoy. The war was national in its character. The States did not make their war expenditures for their own security or improvement, but for the security and improvement of the country. The war was for the good of the whole country—not for any part of it. It cannot be justified on any other hypothesis. The expense should be as general and national as the cause for which it was entailed, and we hope that Congress will see it in that light and be prepared to act accordingly.

The Springfield, Mass., Republican speaks of the vagaries of an insane woman, evidently well educated and well reared, and coming from nobody knows where, who has been sorely vexing the lawyers and city authorities of late. The other day she called at Gov. Trask's, and introduced herself. "Is this Mr. Trask?" "Yes, madam." "Governor Trask?" "At your service," with a low bow. "I am Satan, sir." "What, madam," "Satan: I am Satan, and having more business on my hands, just now, than I can well attend to, and hearing that, since the late city election, you were at leisure, I call to enlist your aid." "Y-e-s, madam—I understand—I think I am your man." And the Governor helped her—to board and lodging in the Insane Asylum at Northampton, where she now remains.

The Portland Advertiser says: "We are pleased to learn from an Eastport correspondent that the U. S. revenue steamer Ashuelot, which is now cruising between that port and White Head, has rendered good assistance to a number of vessels on that coast. He writes that the British barque D. R. DeWolf was pulled off the rocks by her and towed into Eastport. The vessel was full of water and would have proved a total wreck had she not been discovered in this dangerous position by the Ashuelot and relieved. A number of other vessels have received like service, among which was the schooner C. D. Horton, which went ashore at Broad Cove. The officers of the Ashuelot like those of the cutter, are active and always ready for duty wherever it calls them.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW. The January number of this chief of American literary periodicals is at hand, filled with valuable papers. Several of these papers are upon subjects of special present interest.

One, "Our Financial Future," in which the writer proposes his plan of regulating the currency, all business men will read with interest. It contains many suggestions for consideration, one of which is to "repeal the law absolutely limiting the rate of interest which may be charged by the banks." He thinks "it is time we had passed the usury-law stage of financial civilization, and become willing to let the rates of interest be determined by the state of the money market." There are various opinions upon this matter, however.

"Climacteric Influences on Secession and Reconstruction," "Hours of Labor," "The President's Message," "The Prison Discipline Question," and "Courts of Conciliation," (an article that our friend, David Brown, Esq., of the House, should luxuriate in,) ought to insure a great demand for this number of the North American.

The Christian Register, the organ of the Unitarian denomination, in Bishop Potter's condemnation of operatic singing in the churches of New York, says: "The evil is not confined either to the Metropolis or to the Episcopalians. We join with him in saying the whole thing has become scandal and it is time it was suppressed."

A GREAT LUMBERING PLACE IN VERMONT. A friend at Burlington, Vt., writes us as follows: "The lumber trade of Burlington, is quite extensive and prosperous, owing to the fact that that city is the main entrepot of the Canada lumber, which enters the State under the Reciprocity Treaty. The principal firm is that of Lawrence Barnes & Co. During the past year they have received 62,000,000 feet, of which there remained unsold January 1st, but 18,000,000 feet. The sales of this 44,000,000 feet footed up $1,200,000. They have paid exchange on gold paid for Canada lumber $ 97,756.36.—At the dressing mills of the company 20,212,807 feet have been prepared for the foreign and domestic market. 425 boat-loads of lumber were received, and 47 boat and 2,796 car loads shipped. Number of men employed 250, whose wages amounted to $95,000. Freight on the lumber shipped amounted to $125,820." This shows something of the competition to our lumber trade in consequence of the Reciprocity Treaty.

Henry Burgevine, the American who succeeded Mandarin Ward in the command of the imperial Chinese army, and who afterwards joined the rebel forces and was recently drowned, while a prisoner, was formerly a resident of Washington, and in 1847 was a page in the United States Senate. He has a brother and sister residing in Arkansas, and is said to be a native of North Carolina. He went to China as mate of a vessel, and is represented to have been a reckless and unprincipled adventurer, ready to betray any cause for a small sum of money.

—The third lecture of the course before the Freedman's Aid Association was delivered last evening by Professor Harris, on the dignity, rights and obligations of labor, and the principles involved therein.

The subject was presented with that clearness, force and ability, which so characterize his writings, and which has so clearly marked him during our four years of struggle for national existence, and the dignity of labor as an earnest and christian patriot.

Work belongs to man's normal condition. The rights of labor were shown to be, a right of man to himself, a right to his career, a right to his earnings. Honor man. The laborer is worth more than the products of his labor. Many had regarded the negro not as a man, but as a laborer merely, to be used by the white man. Labor wants wants a fair chance, an undisturbed career. The laborer has a right to making the most of himself—a right to education. Labor is honorable, a duty, a blessing. There is much labor to be done gratuitously, without reciprocity. The christian law is, the strong must serve the weak. Labor is ennobling, when done to the advancement of the interests and well being of society. The selfish man lives not to benefit society, but to prey upon it. Labor then becomes degrading. The elements of servility has been taken out of labor. The word servant should go out of use. Living in the parlor does not make a lady—nor remaining in the kitchen prevent one from being a lady. Character and manness make the lady and gentleman. Let us not at this time miss the true mission of labor. Will the people show as lofty a spirit in peace as they have in war? Christianity elevates labor. Christianity has swept away slavery, and gives honor to labor. The continent is quickening into life by free labor. Aristocracy is smitten at the root. The whole strength of the nation is committed to the ennobling of labor. Free labor and free suffrage are indispensable to the prosperity of country and stability of our government.

HALE'S HONEY OF Horehound and Tar,

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, DIFFICULT BREATHING, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT, BRONCHIAL TUBES AND LUNGS, LEADING TO CONSUMPTION.

This sovereign remedy is compounded from the favorite recipe of an illustrious Physician and Chemist, who for many years used it with the most complete success in his extensive private practice.

He had long been profoundly impressed with the wonderful virtue of the honey of the plant Horehound, in union with the CLEANSING and HEALING properties of tar extracted from the LIFE PRINCIPLE of the forest tree Abies Balsamea or Balm of Gilead. For years he was baffled in his attempts to blend these great medicinal forces into such a union that the original power of each would be preserved, the disagreeable qualities of common tar removed, and the price of the compound be within the means of all. At last, after a long course of difficult chemical experiments, he found that by adding to these two other ingredients, each one valuable by itself, he not only obtained the desired results but greatly increased the curative power of the compound. This having been thoroughly tested by practice, is now offered to the general public as a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy.

THIS MAY CERTIFY that we have been using the past season, Tracy's Patent IMPROVED GAUGES, for hanging gang-saws, and do not hesitate to say that the time saved in changing gauges during one season, will quickly compensate for the expense. The gauges are so arranged in sections that they may be changed to any desirable thickness in very few minutes, and with perfect correctness. They are very durable, not likely to get out of order, and hold the saws much firmer than the old kind of gauges. We recommend them to owners of gang mills as being a time and money-saving invention. A Synopsis of the Regular Army Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.

The bill providing for the reorganization of the regular army was to-day reported from the military committee. The committee are mainly in favor of the bill as it now stands.

It provides that the army shall hereafter consist of five regiments of artillery, 9000 men, 12 regiments of cavalry, 12,000 and 50 regiments of infantry, 36,000 men, to be known as the army of the United States.

Section 2. Artillery to have the same organization as at present, five regiments.

Section 3 adds six regiments of cavalry to the now in service with same organization. It authorizes First and Second Lieutenants, and two-thirds of all officers above grade of First Lieutenant to be taken from volunteer cavalry officers of two years service.

It provides that four of these regiments may be armed and drilled as infantry at the discretion of the President.

Sec. 4. The 55 infantry regiments to consist of the 10 regiments of 10 companies each now in the service, the remaining nine regiments made into 27 by adding two companies to each battalion, with the same provision respecting officers as for the cavalry except that they are to be taken from the infantry and artillery. The 12 regiments of colored men and eight of disabled men or men discharged by disability, the officers are to be taken from the officers of colored regiments, the veteran reserve corps and other officers of volunteers disabled in the service. Promotions in colored and veteran regiments are to be confined to these regiments. The volunteer officers appointed under this act to be apportioned among the States in proportion to the number of troops furnished the army during the war.

Sec 5 prescribes the organization of the infantry to be the same as the first ten regiments, but the companies to have only forty eight privates, making about 36,000, and may be increased to fifty-five thousand if necessary.

Section 7 gives each regiment a band as formerly.

Sec. 8. Enlistments hereafter are to be made for five years. No officers are to be appointed until the minimum number of men is enlisted and the command organized.

Section 9 provides one Lieutenant General, five Major Generals and ten Brigadier Generals with same staff as formerly.

Sec 10 provides that the Adjutant General Department shall be as now prescribed by law.

Sec. 11. The Inspector General Department so far as number and rank are concerned remains the same. It increases the rank of Assistant Inspector General to Lt. Colonel.

Sec. 12. The Bureau of Military Justice as now established.

Section 13. The Quartermaster General's Department to consist of one Brig. General; six Assistants, Colonels; twelve Deputies, Lt. Colonels; twenty Majors; and forty-eight Captains. Vacancies in Captainships to be filled from Volunteer Quartermasters.

Section 14 gives as many military storekeepers as shall be required, not exceeding sixteen.

Section 15 provides that the act of July 4th, respecting the Quartermaster's Department, shall remain in force so far as it does not become unnecessary upon the disbandment of the volunteer forces.

Section 16. The subsistence department shall exist as now prescribed by law.

Section 17. Line officers detailed as quartermasters or commissaries, to have $10 per month extra while responsible for public property.

Section 18—Medical Department. Provides for one General, a Brigadier, one assistant, a Colonel, 75 Surgeons to be Majors, and 150 Surgeons to be Lieutenants for the first three years' service, and Captains after three years' service, and two medical storekeepers. Vacancies of Surgeons and Assistant Surgeons to be filled by selection from volunteers. Assistant Surgeons of volunteers of three years' service to be eligible for promotion to Captain.

Section 19 authorizes the Surgeon Gen'l to detail a Surgeon as Medical Purveyor, who while so acting is to be a Colonel of cavalry, and five Surgeons as Assistant Medical Purveyors, to be while so acting Lieut. Colonels of cavalry.

Section 20 authorizes the Surgeon Gen'l to detail five Surgeons as Medical Inspectors, to be while so acting Colonels of cavalry.

Section 21—Pay Department. One Paymaster General, Brig. General; two Assistants, Colonels; two Deputies, Lt. Colonels; and sixty Paymasters, Majors. Vacancies in the grade of Major to be filled from additional Paymasters, who have served two years.

Section 22. Corps of Engineers to be the same as now provided by law.

Section 23 provides for the appointment of four inspectors of fortifications, to be selected from the corps of engineers, and to be Colonels of Engineers. This is not to increase the number of officers in the engineer corps.

Sec. 24. The five companies of Engineers to be a battalion; Adjutants and Quartermasters to have cavalry pay, while so acting.

Sec. 25 reduces each company of engineers to 20 men, to be apportioned equally among the two classes of privates, and authorizes the President, in time of war, to restore the present organization.

Sec. 26. The Ordnance Department to be the same as now provided by law—with one Brig. Gen'l, three Colonels, five Lt. Col's, eight Majors, 20 Captains, 15 1st Lieutenants, nine 2d Lieuts, and 13 military storekeepers.

Sec. 27 provides for one chief signal officer—Colonel. The Sec'y of War to appoint a detail of officers and men as required for efficient signal service; none to be appointed until examined and approved; officers while detailed to be paid as cavalry, and enlisted men as engineers—the latter to be mounted on public horses when necessary.

Sec. 28. No officer of the Regular Army below field officers, to be promoted without examination; any officer failing to pass a satisfactory examination to be suspended from promotion for one year; on a second failure to be dropped; officers failing by reason of moral disqualifications not to be re-examined.

Sec. 29. Heads of Departments to be selected from the corps to which they belong.

Sec. 30. No persons to be appointed in the pay, medical or Quartermasters' departments until they have been examined as now provided by law.

Sec. 31. No persons to be commissioned in any regiments until examined by boards convened by the Secretary of War; examination to be in reference to Military History, services during war, and qualifications; appointments to be made without regard to seniority, but with sole regard to qualifications and services.

Sec. 32. Persons applying for commissions not to have any compensation for expenses incurred in reporting for examination.

Sec. 33 regulates all laws inconsistent herewith.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.

The Republican members held an adjourned meeting at the Capitol to-night to receive the report of a committee heretofore appointed to mature a plan in order to reconcile the conflicting views on the bill for the extension of negro suffrage in the District of Columbia.

It seems settled, both from speeches and private expression of members, that no bill for that purpose, without restrictions, can pass.

The owners of a building in which is held a colored school, at Wyattsville, Md., notified teachers of the school, a few days since, that it would have to be closed, as the laws of Maryland prohibited the education of colored children. The the teachers submitted the case to Major Gen'l Howard, Commissioner of refugees freedmen, &c., who directed the teachers to continue the school as heretofore.

SULLIVAN'S EXAMINATION. Cornelius Sullivan was examined before Judge Humphrey yesterday forenoon at the City Hall, on the charge of breaking the window of the broker's office of Mr. P. M. Blake, on the 19th of April last, and stealing U. S. bonds worth $2,631. The robbery, it will be remembered, was boldly done, in broad day-light, on a principal business street, the thief having first fastened Mr. Blake in by passing a stout stick wrapped in a newspaper through the handle of the door outside. Two little boys (one of them, Michael Colling, being a witness who identified him) were looking into the window at the time. Sullivan kicked him away, as he testifies, and then broke the window and fled. He ran at full speed through Norombega Market, with a drawn revolver, threatening all who were in his path, and escaped clear off by running up the east bank of the stream as far as the brook and then cutting across the open lands to the woods.

He afterwards made his way to Boston, and it is said sold some of the bonds there to a rascal of his acquaintance at about one sixth of their value—and probably disposed of the whole in a similar manner. None were ever recovered.

Since that time he has been seen in our city, and is supposed to have been lurking about here for the last few months living wretchedly upon the proceeds of occasional plunder—until Sunday night last, when he stole a trunk from behind a hack on High street, and was tracked by the police as detailed in our paper, to the barn of Mr. Wall on Essex street, and captured. He is but a young man, not more than 21 or 22 years of age apparently—is not large in size, and although having a sharp and determined looking countenance, with bad features, does not look the desperado that he is. A large and curious crowd assembled at City Hall to hear the examination, but he was entirely unabashed by the hundreds of eyes brought to bear upon him.

He made no defence, although pleading not guilty; and his honor Judge Humphrey, after hearing the evidence, ordered him to be sent up for trial at the coming February term of the Supreme Court, and fixed the bail at four times the amount of property stolen, $10,000—which of course he cannot obtain.

—The snow-storm which commenced in New York and further west on Monday afternoon, reached us yesterday forenoon and prevailed moderately through the day—an inch or two only of snow having fallen up to last evening. It will make our sleighing pretty good, however, if not succeeded by rain or a thaw.

FIRE ALARMS. Some of our firemen are complaining of the insufficiency of our fire alarms in the day-time, and we think with some reason. There has generally been but one bell rung, and that only for a short time. In one or two cases within our recollection, the alarm has been a long time delayed. We do not know whose duty it is to perform that service, or whether the city appoints any special persons to perform it during the day-time. The matter, however, should be attended to.

CORRECTION. The insurance on Mr. Mace's house was incorrectly stated yesterday. It is $1000, (instead of $2000), on the main house and ell, $800 on the stable and shed, and $200 on furniture.

JUVENILE SINGING SCHOOL. This afternoon Mr. Wilder commences his annual juvenile classes for instruction in vocal music. The art of singing is capable of furnishing an immense amount of pleasure, and is available in the domestic circle, on pleasure excursions, and frequently in places where all other classes of amusement are beyond our reach. Every child should become a singer, and every parent should see to it that this part of their education is not neglected. To-day both classes will meet at half-past three instead of at the time advertised.

FIRE IN DIXMONT. The residence of Orlando Garland at Dixmont Center was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning at two o'clock. Mr. Garland was awakened by the smoke, and barely escaped with his family, his wife and two children, through a window with nothing on but their night clothes. He then drew out from the bed two quilts, with which he covered his wife and children, and then started, naked, to his nearest neighbor, half a mile distant, for assistance. The house was entirely consumed. Loss $500; no insurance. Mrs. Garland had her feet badly frost bitten.

ISLE AU HAUT. The Argus says the old Lobster Factory at Isle au Haut has been taken down, and a larger and more substantial building in its stead, to be occupied by the Messrs. Lewis Brothers, who intend to do a more extensive business in putting up lobsters, &c., than heretofore. Isle au Haut is situated just outside of Green's Landing, Deer Isle Thoroughfare, and is a place of resort in summer. Green's Landing will probably be one of the stopping places of the Machias steamer.

—We learn by the Portland Press report of a sermon by Rev. E. C. Bolles, pastor of Congress Square Universalist Church of that city that during the past year the Society has dedicated its new church, which with the land, organ and furniture has cost not less than $70,000. Of this sum more than $50,000 has been paid.

—The Biddeford Journal records a sad event. Mr. William Hubbard, 69 years of age, of Kennebunk, went into the woods last Friday morning. He became chilled, and after chopping a very short time, fell senseless. He was taken home and became conscious, but had not sufficient strength to rally, and died the next morning.

—The Augusta Banner has an article on the improvements recently made at Lisbon Falls, lately Little River Village. About a year ago the Worumbo Manufacturing Company, with a capital of $250,000, purchased not only the entire water power, but about 200 acres of land adjoining, for purposes connected with manufacturing. The company has erected a woolen factory, 150 feet in length by 60 in width, four stories high beside the basement.

—On Saturday, at Fraconia Iron Works, proverbially the coldest place in New England, the degree of cold was 36 degrees below zero, while at the Profile House, eight miles further south, it was but 6 degrees below at the same time.

—The enterprising business men of Moderation Falls are fast building again on the ruins of the recent disastrous fire in that village.

—Some of the New York people want to have erected in that city the largest organ in the world. A correspondent of the Post offers to be one of a dozen gentlemen to complete the enterprise.

—The Hartford Press says: "A ragged little fellow was seen skating on one of our ponds lately without skates and stockings, his skates being strapped upon his bare feet. We said it was jolly good fun, and that his feet were warm enough if he kept on skating!"

—The custom of selling colored people in Delaware for a term of years, as a punishment for crime, is still kept up, though now it don't amount to much. Four persons were sold a few days since, and brought from twelve to fifteen cents each, and their purchasers immediately let them go.

—An association of invalids from all parts of the Union at St. Paul, Minn., is called the Pulmonary Brigade.

"GALLANT HUNTERS." Five poor foxes were hunted to death by hounds and horses on Thursday afternoon at Union Race Course, Long Island. There was a great number of spectators. The foxes were let loose separately in the enclosed race-course, and having no chance for their lives among the ten or twelve hounds which pursued them, were soon caught and killed. The dogs were apparently unwilling to perform the part assigned to them; but they were persistently set on by their keepers until this cruel and disgraceful chase was ended.

—The Burlington, Vt., Free Press says Mr. Henry Wilson, of Rinesburg, has recently lost five cows out of a herd of forty, by a disease apparently the same in each case, and terminating in death about twelve hours from the attack. This causes considerable solicitude among dairymen in that quarter. But as yet it is not known that the disease has appeared in other herds.

A man who pretended to have seen a ghost, was asked what the ghost said to him. "How should I understand," replied the narrator, "what he said? I am not skilled in the dead language.

—To remove stains from your character—get rich.

—Some of the oil companies of Pennsylvania make a deplorable exhibit to the Auditor General. The law requires them to assess their stock at a valuation so that the tax can be adjusted. The same stock which a few months ago was represented by the directors to be cheap at ten dollars a share, is now valued by the same directors at five cents per share, and at this last assessment many of the taxes are computed and paid.

—In thirteen years the Public Library in Boston has risen from a collection of a few thousand volumes to 120,000, and from a circulation of about 7,000 a year to above 190,000.

RAILROAD FREIGHTS. The Western farmers and business men are engaged in a war upon the Western lines of railway for their high freight charges. Public meetings are held and a reduction demanded. The roads are beginning to succumb.

When a man and woman are made one by a clergyman, the question is, which is the one. Sometimes there is a long struggle between them, before this matter is finally settled.

GREAT ONE DOLLAR
Cleaning-out Sale of Jewelry,
TO CLOSE AN ESTATE.
$241.855 Worth of Elegant Jewelry,
INCLUDING Watches, Diamond Brooches, Chains, Lockets, Rings, Gold Pens, Silver and Silver Plated Ten and Dinner Service, Silver and Japanned Waiters, Dresses, Statuette, Scenes, Porcelain, Bijouterie, Photographic Albums, Pianos, and in fact, the entire stock of an old established Jewelry House to be closed out on an entirely new and novel plan.

Each article, without reference to its Value, to be sold for ONE DOLLAR!

The plan is this:—Our entire Stock of Goods is appraised, and Certificates, or Tickets, each naming some one article of our extensive assortment of Jewelry, etc., are placed in envelopes, carefully sealed, and then thoroughly mixed in a case. The number of these Certificates corresponds to the number of dollars at which our stock of Goods is valued. Upon the receipt by us of One Dollar, a disinterested person selects, indiscriminately, One of these Sealed Envelopes, which contains a Certificate, which we send, without opening, to the person who has ordered them. Upon receiving and opening them you are entitled to whatever articles the Certificates name, upon payment of One Dollar for each one. If it be a $500 Piano, or a Locket, or a $250 Watch, or a $150 Diamond Ring, or a $1 Scarf or Bosom Pin, it is all the same. The return of any Certificate to us, with One Dollar, entitles you to whatever the Certificate may name, irrespective of its value. As no article valued less than One Dollar is named in any Certificate, it will be at once seen that this is NO Lottery, but a straight-forward, legitimate business arrangement, which may be participated in by the most fastidious. You receive your Certificates, and if they name something which you want, or some article of value, as for instance, a Gold Watch, Diamond Brooch, Parian Statuette, Piano, Pin, Ring, etc., you can send and get it; if not, you let it alone and the matter is ended.

To reimburse us for the cost of printing, advertising, and forwarding the Certificates we charge as follows:—Five Certificates $1; Eleven for $2; Twenty for $3; Twenty-six for $5; Thirty for $3. One Hundred for $15, and a magnificent premium, and Two Hundred Certificates and a superior Watch (as premium) for $30.

We want 10,000 active, stirring Agents to canvass every city, town, village, neighborhood, factory, and shop in the United States. Energetic men or women of good reputation and business capacity may clear $50 per week in the cities and large towns, and a proportionate amount in the interior.

Ferry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.
Chlosma, or Mothpatch, (also Liverspot), and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the dingy colored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than a brunnette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either. Now any preparation that will effectually remove them without injuring the most delicate skin in the least, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. D. C. Ferry, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.
Prepared only by D. C. FERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond Street, New York, and for sale by all druggists in Boston, by Warren L. Alden, Wholesale Agent; price $1.00 per bottle. Call for

CASE OF GOODMAN FANE.

(Concluded.)

So the astonished victim of this diabolical conspiracy was removed, vainly appealing to the judge to permit him to obtain legal advice. The worthy man was a lunatic, so thought the magistrate, and none would look after his interests so well as his children. Their domestic grief should not be subjected to the further laceration of a jury trial.

Miss Vere was dismissed from service at once, much to the gratification of Mrs. Drowth, who considered her as a rival who had blocked her way to good fortune. The thought of this loss induced her to demand something handsome from Jefferson Vane, by way of compensation for her assistance in the domestic plot.

The offer he made was so small as to be scouted by her; and a quarrel occured, resulting in the departure of Mrs. Drowth, bag and baggage; and the son and daughter now remained in undisputed possession of the property, to obtain which they had doomed their father to the horrible imprisonment of a public madhouse.

But Mrs. Drowth was not to be baffled in this way, without an effort at retaliation. Enraged by her double disappointment, she conceived the design of bringing the heartless brother and sister into public disgrace for their parricidal conduct, cherishing the additional hope of grateful reward from her late employer, should she succeed in effecting his release.

'The Lord will prosper my endeavors,' said the devout woman to herself, as she traveled to the distant hospital in the cars, 'to see how the land lay, for this is a case of conscience!'

Under the combined influence of hope and revenge, Mrs. Drowth embraced the persecuted man, on meeting him in that melancholy abode, and shed tears almost as freely as if she had not helped to place him there.

Mr. Fane had but little to say, briefly alluding to the conduct of his children, which so shocked and bewildered him, that he said he was hardly sure now that it was not all a dream. He lamented especially that he could not send tidings to his friends, or to some lawyer who might undertake his case; for all which he wrote or might write, was given into the hands of his son, by order of the latter.

'I will be your friend, you dear, persecuted man!' exclaimed Mrs. Drowth, taking advantage of the emergency to give him a kiss, as a specimen of many more, that he might have in the future, if he so willed it. 'You little imagine the interest I feel in you; but I do hope you don't feel half the interest in that Miss Emily which they say you feel.'

Mr. Fane saw through her policy, and observed his own; and in view of the dread companionship which he now had, he disavowed all love for Miss Vere, and made the happy remarks:

'My dear Mrs. Drowth, by your efforts I am in hopes of regaining my freedom; and then I will reward you in a way you cannot expect.'

'Means marriage, I'm sure!' thought she joyfully; and promising to lose no time, she returned to the city, and applying to a young and acute lawyer, made a full statement of the case, and engaged him on behalf of Mr. Fane.

The lawyer's heart, as well as his mind, were enlisted in redressing the mighty and unnatural wrong which had been done; and after an interview with Mr. Fane, at the asylum, he formed his plan, and proceeded to the house where the brother and sister still resided.

'I have come,' he said, 'on a professional errand to you, and, therefore I shall allude with the less ceremony to the unhappy differences which exist between you and your father.'

'Differences!' exclaimed Jefferson; 'no differences, no disagreements, sir! We love our father, and sadly deplore the wreck of his reason, which forces us to place him where he is, for his own good.'

'For your own good, you mean, and perhaps you think,' returned the lawyer; 'but I can assure you, sir, that it will be much more to your advantage, and your honor, if you repent what you have done, and take the first step toward a final atonement, by at once releasing him.'

'And I can assure you, sir,' said Jefferson, frowning, 'that Honora and I shall do nothing of the kind. Our father is an undoubted lunatic.'

'Not undoubted, I beg pardon! I am a man of common sense as well as a lawyer, and I doubt that he is mad, most decidedly. I have seen him, and comparing his conduct with yours, I should say that you would be much more appropriately confined than he.'

'Humph!' sneered the son, stung by the rebuke. 'You are a lawyer, and your opinions are paid for.'

'Whatever recompense I may get is no legitimate concern of yours. But that which does most essentially concern you, just at present, is to give a full assent to those opinions, which you affect to despise.'

'And what are your opinions, pray?'

'First, that you should release your abused father at once, and without further action on my part. Second, that unless you do, I shall make an effort, which will not only restore him to his rights, but fix infamy to your name as long as you live.'

The guilty son turned pale at this exhibition of firmness; but he remained silent.

Perhaps you had better compromise with him, in some manner, Jefferson,' here suggested his sister; but he shook his head and mused awhile.

'There is only one compromise that I am prepared or willing to make,' continued the lawyer, 'acting as your father's agent.'

'And what is that?'

'Give me a note to your father, promising at once to restore him to liberty, if he will sign an agreement to give you and your sister one-half of his property, and also that he will not contract a second marriage without your consent. I will grant the proposal to him, and we will see what we can do about it. This is a liberal offer for me. If refused, I promise you that I will have a trial by jury, and try to clear your father at any rate.'

'Perhaps your advice is for the best,' concluded Jefferson, writing the desired note, which was signed by himself and sister, and given to the lawyer. 'You may give meat to him; but if he don't comply with the terms, he shall never get free, if we can help it.'

'I will tell him so. But I think by the aid of this note, I shall be able to make all right.'

By this interview, the lawyer had effected a double purpose. He had assured himself of the guilty motives of the children of his client, and obtained a written evidence against them. He now proceeded to make all right, as he had said, though not in the manner in which Jefferson and Honora had expected.

At an early period, a trial by jury was had, the note was produced in court, and with the testimony of Mrs. Drowth, was regarded as conclusive evidence of a mercenary and unnatural conspiracy on the part of the son and daughter of Goodman Fane. Witnesses in abundance were now present to testify to his perfect sanity; but the exposure of the plot seemed to render them superfluous. The verdict of the jury speedily liberated Mr. Fane, and his children, after a withering rebuke from the Judge, left the court-room attended by a shower of hisses from the spectators.

Shortly after his arrival home, with Mrs. Drowth on his arm, the business-like woman expressed her curiosity to know the nature of the reward which, when in the hospital, Mr. Fane said he intended for her.

'Of course, I could not think of money—not from you!' she declared, with a tender look.

'Oh, no!' said he; 'I didn't think of that, Mrs. Drowth. My idea was, and is, that in the event of my marriage with Miss Vere which is now certain to take place soon, you shall be our housekeeper, with better wages than ever.'

Mrs. Drowth screamed with anger and disappointment, and would have fallen in a swoon, had she been a lighter body. As it was, she sulked for a few hours; and then as she could do no better, concluded to stay, and put up with a good situation.

And here we leave the case of Goodman Fane in the hands of the jury of our readers who cannot fail to see the injustice of a law which thus easily admits of the persecution of the innocent, by an incomplete solution of problems of insanity.

Of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruptions that accumulate in the blood. Of all discoveries that have been made to purge it out none can equal

HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND

Extract Sarsaparilla,

It cleanses and renovates the blood, instils the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorder that grow and frankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on, has long been sought for, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit certificates to show its effect, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonfuls of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Boston Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the Decoction as usually made.

☞ THESE EXTRACTS HAVE BEEN ADMITTED TO USE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY, and are also in very general use in all the State Hospitals and Public Sanitary Institutions throughout the land, as well as in private practice, and are considered as invaluable remedies.
